Marble Mountains is a group of five spectacular hills located just South of Da Nang, on the way to Hoi An. The five marble hills or “mountains” are named after the five elements (Ngũ Hành) of ancient oriental philosophy. The area contains many caves, grottos and Buddhist temples brimming with brilliantly formed natural entrances and tunnels. The temples make this area a popular religious pilgrimage site.

Hoi An Ancient Town is truly one of the most charming and beautiful towns in central Vietnam. The preservation of 18th century architecture and the way of life in the old town continues to lure visitors. Once there, most are captured by its unique atmosphere and sense of tranquility. Hoi An is easy to explore and everyone is welcome. Hoi An Ancient Town was officially listed as a World Heritage Site in December in 1999
